

Rethinking Education Today For the World of Tomorrow

Transforming our approaches to teaching, learning and assessment

Visioning, creating, facilitating and leading Professional Learning conversations

How is your offering unique and visionary?

Insights

- Exploring and understanding current and relevant global educational megatrends, and what each of these trends comprise as educational drivers for the world of today and the world of tomorrow.
- Reflecting as a whole learning community, as to where we are, and what your next steps need to be, in defining your unique offering and vision as thought leaders in education.

Inspiration

Defining what you want to focus on as a learning community, and co-constructing, with T.I.C, the outline and key areas you want to emphasise for your journey and transformation in planning for, evolving and extending your approaches to teaching, learning and assessment, to empower education today for the innovative world our students will be a core part of in the future.

How do we action your commitment and next steps?

How do we accomplish this as a learning community?

Innovation

Defining and designing specific focus areas, strategies, professional learning offerings and ongoing support for your aspirations and goals in ensuring transformation of your campuses` approaches in professional agility, authentic agency, teaching, learning and approaches to assessment to empower collective and individual progress.

How do we remain aligned with educational trends and practices?

Global Expertise

Following more than 18 years in educational leadership and training globally and locally, Traci Willis (M.Ed.) is recognised as an International Baccalaureate IBEN lead educator, delivering global PD and training, participating in campus visits for authorisation and evaluation of local and global schools as well as being appointed as a Global Programme Leader, of IB World Schools. She has held the role of Academic Strategic Advisor in various parts of the world, assisting schools and schools groups to define the essential actions required to transform their unique offerings, resulting in learning that remain significant, relevant, engaging and challenging, as we empower exponential globally aligned skillsets and understandings required by the world of tomorrow – starting onsite today.

How do we determine what we plan for your PL needs?

Personalised Offerings

Face to Face Sessions:

- Conferences: Keynote, Break Out, Facilitation
- Groups of Schools
- Personal: Whole School
- Grades or Subject Departments

Online Virtual Sessions

Parent Presentations and Sessions

Individual Coaching Sessions

Corporate Presentations and Sessions

Presentations and Workshops tailored to requests

Contact:
info@triple-i-consulting.com

<https://www.facebook.com/tripleiiiconsulting>
www.iii-consulting.com

